

DRAFT MEN CHOSEN TO FILL NEW CALLS

List of Those to Be Sent to Columbus Barracks Next Month Made Up By Board

The Portage county registrants to be sent to Columbus Barracks, Ohio, in July for general military service will be chosen from lists made up by the local board today. The number to be sent to Columbus Barracks, is 60, but this will be divided into two parties of 30 each, one to go during the five-day period beginning July 5 and the other during the five-day period beginning July 15. Entrainment instructions have not yet been received.

The board will hold a meeting again on Wednesday, July 3, at 1 p. m. to hear any claims that may be presented for deferred calls on agricultural grounds. Owing to the large draft calls that have been issued during the last several weeks, local boards must necessarily exercise great care in passing on agricultural claims in order to avoid exhausting class one. As a result only agricultural workers absolutely essential to the operation of farms on which they are located can be excused, even temporarily.

In the list published below there will be more than enough men to fill the two calls. Those left over from the July 5 list will be placed on the top of the July 15 list, and those left from the latter list will be put in the call for the five-day period beginning July 22, when 135 men will be sent to Camp Grant. The list for Camp Grant will be made up by the board at its meeting on July 1.

WALTERS A CANDIDATE

Former Mayor of Stevens Point Formally Enters Race for Congress

Stevens Point has a candidate for member of congress from the eighth congressional district in the person of Dr. F. A. Walters, three times mayor of the city. Dr. Walters has formally announced himself as a candidate on the Republican ticket and is already starting his campaign for the primary election, which will be held in September.

For several months Dr. Walters had been solicited by his friends, not only in Portage county, but in other counties of the district, to enter the field. However, he has only recently made up his mind to make the run. He has interviewed leading citizens in various parts of the district and is greatly pleased with the encouragement that has been given him. Promises of support from substantial and, in some instances, unexpected quarters leads him to believe that his chances for winning the nomination and election are good, to say the least.

Dr. Walters served Stevens Point as mayor three terms, and was elected the last time by the largest majority ever accorded a mayoralty candidate in the city. He has also been president of the Stevens Point Business Men's association and of the Republican county committee. Last winter when the car shortage caused a virtual tie-up of potato shipments from this county, he took aggressive action toward securing relief for growers and dealers, and it was in no small measure due to his influence and persistence that the situation was improved.

Although commissioned a captain in the medical reserve corps of the army several months ago, Dr. Walters has not been called for service, owing to the fact that younger men have been available. Needless to say he is for vigorous prosecution of the war, and he lays particular stress on the importance of intelligent readjustment after the war.

E. E. Browne of Waupaca, present congressman, will in all probability be a candidate for reelection on the Republican ticket. Another opponent of Dr. Walters for the nomination will be Michael G. Eberlein of Shawano, who was defeated by Mr. Browne two years ago.

COAL DEALERS MEET

Alois Gross, senior member of the Gross & Jacobs Co., went to Milwaukee Tuesday afternoon to attend a conference of coal dealers, in session there today. Representatives of the government are present and it is expected that a definite understanding will be reached as to the season's quota for this section of the country.

46 YEAR OLD SHINGLES

Rhinelander, New North: In 1872 Adam Schliesmann of this city shingled the roof of his father's house in the town of Sharon, Portage county. The shingles were hand shaved by Archie Sievwright, of this city, then a resident of Stevens Point.

Last Sunday Mr. Schliesmann visited the home of his boyhood and was surprised to find that the shingles, which he had placed on the dwelling 46 years ago, were still there and in a fairly good state of preservation. Mr. Schliesmann said that when his brother told him they were the same shingles he was astonished beyond expression.

"It doesn't seem possible that these shingles could give such long service," stated Mr. Schliesmann. "You can say for me that the shingles shaved by Archie Sievwright in 1872 were of the most durable quality. Sievwright's shaved shingles had it all over any of the present day article."

WILL GET BACK PAY

Thousands of Dollars to Be Distributed Among Soo Line Employees This Summer

Thousands of dollars in back pay, in accordance with the recent railway wage award, will be distributed through the Stevens Point offices of the Soo line during the next several months.

Under this award practically all railroad workers in the country received wage advances, the increases being retroactive to January 1, 1918. As a result the railroad accountants have a big job on their hands to compute the amount due each employee. At the local Soo offices the accounting department is busy with this work. The back pay will be computed for each month separately and checks covering these amounts distributed each month for five months. It is expected that the first checks will be ready for distribution about the middle of July.

The pay rolls for the first half of June have been made up on the new basis and have been forwarded to the general offices at Minneapolis. The checks will be distributed July 1. For the months of January, February, March, April and May the employees were paid in accordance with the old scale, so that they will be entitled to back-pay for those months.

An illustration of the effect of the new wage schedule is given by the case of crossing flagmen. The Soo line has many men working in this capacity who are incapacitated for most other kinds of work and who have been getting $1 a day for their services. Now these men will receive an increase of $20 a month, and in addition $100 in back-pay for five months.

It is estimated that approximately $33,000 will be distributed in back-pay checks among section men and station men on the northern district of the Soo line. To this amount will be added many thousands of dollars to men in other branches of the service.

MAY BREAK RECORD

Normal Summer School Has Enrollment of 323—New Dean of Women

The third annual session of the Stevens Point Normal summer school opened Monday morning and there is every reason to believe that the attendance record will be broken. The enrollment at 9:00 o'clock this morning was 323, which is five more than the total enrollment of last year and the same as the enrollment of two years ago.

The dormitory through its fine equipment and splendid accommodations in the way of room and board, is proving very popular. At the present time eighty of the students are accommodated with rooms and ninety with board.

Miss Elizabeth Wilson of the University of Wisconsin is acting as dean of women and teacher of English during the summer session, in place of Miss Bertha Hussey. Miss Wilson is a graduate of the University of Chicago and holds the degree of Ph. D. Her teaching experience has been in the high school at Muskogee, Oklahoma, in the Charleston, Ill. Normal school, and in the Universities of Wyoming and Wisconsin.

MAY COMBINE DEPOTS

Stevens Point May Be Affected by New Policy Recommended by Railroad Administration

Consolidation of the Soo line and Green Bay & Western depots, both freight and passenger, in Stevens Point as a war-time economy measure is a possibility.

The question is now under consideration by officials of both roads, Supt. C. E. Urbahn of the Soo line told a representative of The Gazette Tuesday. The plan is to handle all passenger traffic through the new Soo line station, and also to close the Green Bay freight depot for the period of the war.

"The federal railroad administration has left the matter entirely in the hands of officials of the various roads, while at the same time encouraging consolidation wherever possible and advantageous," said Mr. Urbahn. "Where depots are near enough together and it is possible to handle the business efficiently, consolidation is advisable. In this way man power is conserved and the expense of maintaining separate depots is saved. I cannot say definitely whether or not a consolidation will be effected in Stevens Point, but it is being considered."

Mr. Urbahn also said that consolidations are also being considered at Plover, Park Falls, Chippewa Falls, Ashland, Port Edwards, Nekeosa, Arpin and other stations on the northern district of the Soo.

BUYS MILWAUKEE STORE

Joseph J. Krygier, for four years traveling representative for Foot-Schluz & Co., the St. Paul shoe house, with territory in eastern Wisconsin, has resigned and has purchased a drug store at 418 Mitchell street, Milwaukee, one of two similar establishments that have been conducted by his younger brother, Andrew Krygier, Jr. He will go to Milwaukee next Sunday and will take formal possession July 1. His wife and two children will join him there as soon as a suitable residence can be secured. They will dispose of their residence at 421 Franklin street, this city. Mr. Krygier was in the drug business for ten years and for two years and a half conducted a store of his own at Packwaukee. The departure of himself and family from the city will be regretted by a host of friends, whose best wishes will follow them to their new home. Besides Andrew, Jr., Mr. Krygier has two other brothers located in Milwaukee, Dr. A. A. Krygier, who is a physician with a large practice, and Dr. B. B. Krygier, the youngest of the four and a practicing dentist.

Holtzclaw, principal and founder of the Utica Normal and Industrial Institute, Utica, Mississippi, will deliver a lecture at the Presbyterian church in Stevens Point on the evening of Thursday, June 27, at 7:30 o'clock. He will speak on "The Negro and the World War." Principal Holtzclaw is a disciple of the late Booker T. Washington and was often with him on his lecture tours throughout the country. Booker T. Washington himself once said, "Mr. Holtzclaw is a fluent speaker and will interest an audience before which he may appear." Mr. Holtzclaw has been in Stevens Point before and it is hoped that he will be greeted this time by a large audience.

JUNCTION CHAUTAUQUA

High Class Entertainments at North-ern Village From August 9th to 13th

Although Junction City village is very limited as to population, it is found to retain its place on the map through the enterprise of some of its people. Their latest exploit is to close a contract with the Midland Chautauqua Circuit of Des Moines, Iowa, which will put on a series of high grade entertainments there during the five days, Aug. 9th to 13th, both inclusive. A guarantee of several hundred dollars was required, but this has been subscribed, and as everybody there is a booster the financial success of the venture is almost assured.

Its entertainment and educational value is made certain by the list of attractions, which include Sergeant Harry J. Boyle, a Canadian soldier who has seen hard service in the trenches; Warden J. C. Saunders, a speaker of national reputation; Mason's Jubilee Singers; the De Koven Male Quartette; Josephine Dominick Concert Party; the Columbia Sextette; Judge V. H. Stone of Montana, and several other equally good features.

Adult season tickets, $1.00; single admission, 35 and 50 cents.

SINGS IN GRAND OPERA

Dr. Myron Moen, who has been at home for several months, anxiously awaiting his call to service as a lieutenant in the dental reserve corps of the army, has accepted an offer to sing in grand opera at the Davidson theater, Milwaukee, for three weeks beginning June 30. The offer came from the Boston English Opera Co., which has recently filled notable engagements in San Francisco, St. Louis and Chicago, headed by the popular American tenor, Joseph P. Sheehan. The operas Faust, Il Trovatore, Bohemian Girl and Martha are in the company's repertoire. Dr. Moen while a student at Marquette University, was prominent in musical circles in Milwaukee and has taken part in grand opera there before.

FLOUR FROM POTATOES

Factory for Manufacture of That Food Product May Be Located in Stevens Point

A potato flour factory will be established in Stevens Point if negotiations now pending are successful.

An outside concern, whose representatives have visited this city recently, are looking for a location and Stevens Point is one of three cities being considered. The company has opened negotiations for renting the plant of the National Brewing Co., with the privilege of buying later. A meeting of the bond holders of the brewing company will be held at the company's office at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon, when the offer will be considered and possibly some action taken.

The brewery buildings have not been used for a year or more, the company having made a voluntary assignment for the benefit of its creditors. The buildings are in good condition and well adapted to other manufacturing uses.

The company promoting the potato flour factory is anxious to close the deal as soon as possible in order to get the plant ready for full operations. They are favorable to Stevens Point, especially because of the fact that this city is conveniently situated in the state's greatest potato-raising region. It is probable that if the company locates here it will offer some stock to local parties.

Although the plant, if established, will not employ a large number of men, the advantages that would result would be great, it is believed. The factory would furnish a convenient market for Portage county potatoes, especially during seasons of large crops. Cull potatoes can be used to good advantage, in fact these would be largely used.

TAKE WESTERN TRIP

A. D. Boyington and daughter, Miss Ida May Boyington, left here last Thursday for the far west, their destination being Colburn, Idaho, where they will visit a son and brother, Vernon Boyington, who has been a prominent ranchman in that section for several years. He is about to temporarily retire from the vocation of cattle raising and enter military service, having enlisted in the engineers' corps of the national army. His wife and two step-children will remain on the homestead.

Mr. Boyington has two other sons and a daughter in the western country. R. D. at Chinook, Mont.; C. K. at Mohall, N. Dak., and Mrs. Walter Frank at Sandpoint, Idaho. The Stevens Pointers expect to visit them before returning home in a couple of months.

WILL RUN AGAIN

Gov. E. L. Phelps of Wisconsin has announced that he is a candidate for reelection to the Republican ticket. "The people of Wisconsin are well understood by the people and if re-elected I shall expect to continue the same policies as in 1916, to make our way out of our present economic predicament, and to secure a state government," said the governor in his announcement.

TO BE TRANSFERRED

Byron Carpenter, who has been doing recruiting duty at Minneapolis during the past few months as a yeoman in the United States navy, is soon to be transferred, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Ellen Carpenter of this city. He will be sent to Philadelphia, and expects to leave for the east in July. He hopes to be able to make a short visit home before going. The young man was graduated from the college of law, University of Wisconsin, in June, 1917. He joined the navy the same month and received his first training at Grant Park, Chicago. Later he was transferred to the Great Lakes naval training station.

JULY CALLS TO TAKE MOST OF CLASS ONE

Registrants of 1917 in First Class Dwindling in Number—New Ones Coming

After the July calls are filled and deferred calls on agricultural claims are granted, the number of class one men in Portage county available for military service will be reduced to 30 or 40.

This is the estimate of members of the local board following the receipt of orders to send a total of 206 men to camp during the coming month. The August calls, it is practically certain, will exhaust class one entirely as it now stands, and may draw upon the registrants of June 5, 1918, who will by that time be classified and given order numbers.

The calls to be filled by Portage county in July so far reported are: 30 to Columbus Barracks, Ohio, during the five-day period beginning July 5.

30 to Columbus Barracks, Ohio, during the five-day period beginning July 15.

135 to Camp Grant, Ill., during the five-day period beginning July 22.

Three men for training as chauffeurs and repair men will be sent to Chicago on July 1, to a government school. Three more will be sent to the same city on July 15 for the same kind of training. Under a call received Tuesday 510 Wisconsin men will be sent to Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., July 15 for general mechanical training. Of this number about five will be taken from Portage county.

The call upon Wisconsin for 5,200 men to be sent to Camp Taylor, Kentucky, during the five-day period beginning July 22 has been distributed among other counties.

The local board has combed the lists thoroughly in accordance with war department instructions, but despite the fact that some registrants who had been originally given deferred classifications were placed in class one, the number in class one now will leave but a small surplus for future calls after the July quotas are filled.

There were 264 21-year old men who registered last June 5 in the county, and these will be taken before class two is invaded. The new registrants will be classified within the next ten days and given order numbers through the drawing to be made at Washington.

The local board is already sending out questionnaires to the new registrants. Eighty-five blanks were mailed out Tuesday, 85 today and the balance, or 94, will be sent Thursday. The questionnaires must be returned to the board within seven days from the date of mailing. The legal advisory board will be in session at the court house in this city daily from 9 to 12 in the forenoon, from 1 to 6 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening for the next 10 days to assist registrants in making out the questionnaires. Registrants who are out of the county can go to the nearest legal advisory board for assistance.

FLY HONOR FLAG

A place has finally been found for the city's Liberty Loan honor flag. After holding the emblem for more than a month debating with himself what to do with it, in view of the fact that the city has not a regular flag staff, J. R. Pfiffer, county Liberty Loan chairman, turned it over to City Clerk W. L. Bronson last week and the latter promptly flung it to the breeze in front of the city offices on N. Third street.

BUYS OLD SOO DEPOT

W. E. Kingsbury has bought the two story frame building which until a few days ago served as a passenger depot for the Soo company in this city and will use the material in the erection of one or more modern houses. The east half of the structure is still being devoted to eating house purposes, but when the lunch counter is moved, Mr. Kingsbury will have his new purchase transferred to nearby lots. The selling price is reported to have been $200.

GRADUATES FROM UNIVERSITY

Miss Helen Collins, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. J. W. Collins, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and a member of the University of Wisconsin at Madison, is expected to receive her master's degree in education from the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point. Her name appeared on the commencement program as a member of one of the committees of the class. It was a peculiar circumstance that while the class consisted of 900 young men and women, but 200 took part in the commencement festivities, the others having entered some branch of the nation's service. Prof. and Mrs. Collins attended the exercises, making the trip in their automobile, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Sanford of this city. A niece of Mrs. Sanford, Miss Eva Knowler of Rib Lake, was among the graduates from the letters and science department. Miss Knowler, who attended a summer session of the Stevens Point Normal one year, will return to Madison next fall for a year's post-graduate work in philosophy, after which she expects to receive her master's degree. The Stevens Pointers returned home last Thursday. Miss Collins has signed a contract to teach English in the High school at Bangor, Wis., the coming year.

U. S. MEN IN ALSACE PUZZLE THE ENEMY

Presence of Big Force of American Soldiers on German Soil Worries Hindenburg

That the sending of the 32nd division of national guardsmen into action in Alsace is a thing to worry the German high command, and may, in fact, result in Americans forging ahead to the Rhine ahead of scheduled time, is the opinion expressed by J. W. T. Mason, noted writer on war topics for the United Press. The 32nd division includes Battery E, 120th Field Artillery, in which are enrolled more than a hundred Portage county men.

Said Mr. Mason: Movement of American troops into Alsace is a strategic measure that must exercise a serious influence on future disposition of von Hindenburg's fast dwindling reserves and may interfere with his plans for a new offensive in western France.

The new American positions are so far away from the present area of activity along the west front as to compel Hindenburg to organize a large separate reserve force to protect the upper Rhine against sudden American attack. These reserves must be drawn from the central German reservoirs that make good the losses incurred by Hindenburg's futile drives in Flanders, Picardy and Champagne.

Any strengthening of the German positions in Alsace as the result of America's increasing power in that sector must necessarily decrease the striking force of a German offensive toward Paris and the channel ports. If Hindenburg prefers to take chances with the Americans and weaken his Alsace line for the benefit of future operations in western France, the Stars and Stripes may be planted on the banks of the Rhine ahead of scheduled time.

American units in Alsace are about twenty miles from the Rhine. Capture of the river near the Swiss boundary might suddenly become an immediate American objective any time in the near future if Hindenburg leaves the pathways guarded only by weak detachments.

Before the German spring offensive began, Hindenburg had a large reserve army stationed near the Swiss border in anticipation of an American attack in that area. There is reason to believe the slaughter of German man power in Flanders, Picardy and Champagne compelled Hindenburg to deplete these reserves very considerably. This is doubtless one of the considerations that led General Foch to send new American troops into Alsace.

In consequence of General Foch's move, Hindenburg again is compelled to face one of those terrible puzzles that General Foch so persistently forces on the German general staff. If the Rhine is left partly open in Alsace, an American offensive is deliberately invited while if it is closed with heavy German reserve reinforcements the slim chance of reaching Paris or the channel becomes slimmer still.

FOR FREE POLAND

President Poincare of France, speaking last Saturday morning on the occasion of the presentation of Polish flags to the first Polish army, said that the restoration of independence to Poland is one of the essential conditions to the future equilibrium of Europe.

"The sons of Poland are coming in great numbers from America to fight under their own colors on the side of their allies in defense of their national ideals," he said. "The allies are certain of the outcome of this war. The white eagle of Poland may now spread its wings anew and soar in the radiance of victory."

Son of Former Portage County Man Writes Thrilling Poem With Patriotic Theme

The average American fighting man isn't much on writing poetry, but not so with Bradford Deane Corrigan, son of James E. Corrigan of Hamilton, Tex., a native and boyhood resident of Portage county. Young Corrigan, who is a nephew of Mrs. John J. Ryan, Mrs. J. R. Means and Mrs. T. J. Brown of Stevens Point, is in the aviation service of the army, and is now in France. While enroute overseas he wrote the following poem, entitled "Over The Top," which he sent to his mother as a remembrance of Mother's Day.

Came the day in fitful dawning,
Streaking pallid, sickly hues;
All its portaled promise pawing
To the War-God's drifting dunes.
There we'd run for forty hours,
Waiting for the word to go;
With the enemy before us
Just a hundred yards or so.

Perching's men they said were raring
And, by G— it was no lie;
Give us room and we'd be faring
Where the Germans ought to die.
Time passed quick, the moon was coming
Shriller sang the screaming shell
Clearer came the aircrafts humming,
Out of Heaven into hell.

There we waited, praying Heaven
That our heartstrings might be steel;
Calmly cursing as a leaven
To the coming woe or weal.
Waited there as tense as tightwire,
Waited there as humans will;
Waited there till thru the smoke-drifts
Came the word to take the hill!

Then we charged, a mass of demons,
And the War-God was in luck;
For in twenty breaking minutes
We took everything we struck.
Twenty thousand souls in khaki—
Bomb-smoke stinging, screaming pain;
While the cannons dared us take them,
And we did, then charged again!

They were running, gasping, beaten,
Glad to leave that awful strife;
So we dragged away our prisoners—
Mostly shot or maimed for life.
I had turned back to the trenches;
Gained their top and started down
When I found him there a-dying—
Just a lad from my home town.

All about him lay the fallen,
Moaning curses in their pain;
While beside him lay his prisoner—
Fair-haired boy from near Lor-raine.
"Give me water please, and hurry;
O, you're slow as Hindenburg!"
Then I turned my canteen upward
To his lips, and scarcely heard—

"It's for him—my Boche prisoner!
He's my first, old Yankee Pal—
And I've got a Dad in Texas—
You'll tell him—then write my Gal?"
Then he motioned to the other—
"Give him water; let me be;
He can live to see his Mother,
I am dying; don't you see?"

Somewhere bands are softly playing,
Somewhere life is free and gay,
Somewhere hearts still go a-maying
All the lovely, livelong day.
Could I swing the Gates of Sorrow,
Lift the latticed, tear-spun drop,
I would find a mother, proud sir,
That her boy went o'er the Top.

A SELECTED DIVISION

When the 50th division is ready for the battle line, it was announced at Camp Grant Friday, it will be the first body of picked specialists and expert fighting men that has ever represented the United States on a battle field. Sweeping physical and efficiency examinations are under way to weed out all physical and mental misfits from combat units and experts say the "Blackhawk" division will be the super-soldiers of the overseas forces. It is said that the seasoned soldiers of Illinois and Wisconsin who make up the nucleus now are above the usual army standard after nearly a year of training in camp. Those who fail to measure up to the high standard fixed for the "Blackhawk" division will be transferred to some branch of the service where their services will be most valuable.

Ray Clark, Soo Line Agent, Chairman of Local Sub-committee of Railroad Administration

E. D. Pendall, chairman of the Fox River Valley sub-committee, of the Milwaukee district committee, United States Railroad Administration, accompanied by C. E. Urbahn, Superintendent of the Soo line, A. D. MacDonaki, secretary of the Milwaukee committee, and C. W. Krause, secretary of the Fox River Valley committee, visited Stevens Point last Thursday for the purpose of forming a sub-committee at this point.

Ray Clark, agent of the Soo line, was appointed chairman of the Stevens Point committee, with R. C. Tyler, agent of the Green Bay & Western railroad and J. H. O'Brien, general yardmaster of the Soo line, as members.

The purpose of this committee is to work in conjunction with the public in the more intensive loading of freight car equipment, thereby making a saving of cars so necessary for the use of the U. S. government at the present time.

They also deal with matters of delay and accumulation of freight car equipment, it being urged upon the public at this time to eliminate the delays as much as possible.

Similar committees working under the jurisdiction of Mr. Pendall are being formed at Grand Rapids and Wausau.

Mr. Pendall states that the shipping public are at all times welcome to the meetings of this committee and wishes them to give their greatest co-operation in this very essential movement of car conservation.

The party traveled in Mr. Pendall's motor car, which arrived over the Soo line.

YOUNG SAILOR HOME

Glen Neale, the oldest son of Prof. and Mrs. O. W. Neale, spent a short furlough with his parents last week. Young Neale arrived from the east Friday afternoon and left to report for duty on the transport Mexican on Sunday. Glen is a second class pharmacist, U. S. navy, having received promotion last spring. He has been stationed on the Mexican for the past six months and has made two trips across the Atlantic. The young man states that at no time did they encounter submarines. He has been in the service for over a year.

VISITED GREAT LAKES

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Winkler and sister, Miss Carolina Rutta, spent most of last week on a trip to southern Wisconsin and Illinois, going down more especially to visit the ladies' brother, Henry L. Rutta, one of the sailor boys at Great Lakes, Ill. Henry enlisted last February and immediately upon his arrival at the training station he was assigned to a position in the postoffice. Because of his proficiency in handling mail matter he may be kept at this work for several months longer.

The Stevens Point visitors were amazed at the immensity of the buildings erected for the sailors, of whom about 30,000 are constantly in training there.

HAVE YOU SENT THEM BOOKS?

Books we lonely soldiers crave;
If our sanity you'd save,
Send us books!
Far away from home and friends,
We will bless the one who sends
Many books!

Many stories you have read,
Would you then their pleasure spread?
Send us books!
Time hangs heavy on our hands,
Way off here in foreign lands—
We need books.

When our fighting day is through,
Would you have us think of you?
Send us books!
You can help us hours to while,
And meet troubles with a smile
With your books.

Choose a book and in it write
Words of cheer to those who fight,
Send us books!
We are here to fight for you,
Will you help us see it through?
Give your books!

We need books of many kinds,
We are men of many minds;
Send us books!
When this fearful war is spent,
You'll be thankful that you sent
Soldiers books.

The "Scraps of Paper" that will Help Win the War

Smother the Kaiser with War Savings Stamps

Sacred treaties are called by the Kaiser mere "scraps of paper." His words are an example of the "Kultur" of the Huns who commit unspeakable crimes against innocent women and children—the "Kultur" that America is fighting to remove forever from the world.

FRIDAY, JUNE 28TH
NATIONAL WAR SAVINGS DAY

On that day every loyal American will be summoned to prove his patriotism by "signing the pledge"—by agreeing to invest in a definite amount of War Savings Stamps each month during 1918.

Germany's submarines succeeded in driving Uncle Sam into the war, but they've had a hard time trying to chase him out.

Portage county soldiers are fighting on German soil. They're still quite a distance from Berlin, but they're on the way.

Woodrow Wilson for a third term. Sounds pretty good, eh? It would break a precedent, but the world is getting used to that.

The Kaiser has had a taste of what Americans can do when it comes to war, but if he knows enough to think he'll realize that "the worst is yet to come."

It was a clever paragrapher who said that the man who could go to Russia and start a string of free-lunch counters could be elected czar without opposition.

There are many things that will help win the war, but it will be the reserves that will win the war. Your Liberty Bonds and your War Savings Stamps will make it possible to train, equip and transport the reserves on which final victory depends.

By doing without luxuries and non-essentials, you can help to release men for service in industries necessary more War Savings Stamps than you think you can afford and watch how easy it is to do without many things you have been accustomed to having. The dollar in one's pocket is a slippery object. If it's put into government securities it is safe from temptation.

"Just before he departed from Germany, Ambassador Gerard reports, Wilhelm Hohenzollern sneeringly remarked, 'O, America won't fight.'"

"This country has been at war with Germany now fourteen months," says the Chicago Investment News. "In that period it has raised $10,000,000,000 for war purposes; it has armed and equipped 1,000,000 men, and more, the greater part of whom are now in France, and who, according to late reports, are halting the Hun's second drive on Paris until enough of them will be prepared to smash the enemy. It is launching ships at a rate that is the amazement of wonder of all; it is turning out munitions in quantities almost incredible, and shipping airplanes by the hundreds, if not thousands, every week. Indeed, America is preparing on a scale so stupendous as to cause wonder. Won't fight, eh?"

"There may have been a time when this country was as slow to action as it is to wrath. All this has changed. One need only watch on the streets the demonstrations that take place whenever some of the heroes from 'over there' parade; or see the 'movie' audiences when battle scenes are thrown on the screen, or portraits of the president, our army and navy leaders, or the soldiers of our allies. The people of America are not only in this war; they are for it to a man."

"Won't fight? The tremendous sacrifices which Hohenzollern is making; the tens of thousands he is sending to untimely death; the starvation to which he is subjecting his nation; the haste to accomplish his fiendish work before America really gets in, baffle his sneering and contemptuous remark. The nation that so easily subscribed to $10,000,000,000 of Liberty bonds; that cheerfully gives hundreds of millions to the Red Cross and other war demands, is in this fight to the bitter end—as Hohenzollern will discover before many more moons."

The idea of asking patriotic citizens of each community to pay for newspaper space for boosting Liberty Loan and War Savings drives was not conceived through selfish interests of newspapers, but is purely and simply a government plan put into execution by the newspapers. In effect, therefore, when a newspaper representative solicits advertising of this nature from a business firm or individual, he is representing the United States government as much as he is his newspaper.

After the first Liberty Loan campaign the treasury department officials turned their attention toward devising plans to carry on more intensive publicity campaigns in connection with succeeding drives. The result was that in the second loan drive big-city newspapers carried thousands of inches of Liberty Loan advertising paid for by private interests in the spirit of patriotism. The plan worked out so well that it was taken up by smaller newspapers all over the country in the third loan, the unparalleled success of which is direct proof of the power of the "country press."

In working out the advertising plans, government officials and the newspaper editors had no quarrel, but considered every phase of the question in all thoroughness. The suggestion that the government should do its own advertising was discussed from every angle before it was finally decided to dismiss it as impracticable. For the government to contract and pay for its own advertising would pile up no end of trouble. It could not discriminate, either in the allotment of space or in the price to be paid. Again, the government-paid advertising would be minus that personal appeal embodied in advertisements run over the name of some local individual or firm.

In asking publishers to push Liberty Loan advertising, the government was looking for returns to the government, not to the publishers. It was realized that the newspapers, while they had responded patriotically, almost without exception, to every request made upon them by the government, could not be expected to bear the entire burden of such an advertising campaign as was contemplated. It is the same with the War Savings Drive now in progress, regarding which the National War Savings committee, through its representative, the Western Newspaper Union, said: "It is not expected that the newspaper publishers will bear the burden of providing the space needed to carry these advertisements, [prepared by the National War Savings Committee] but it is expected that the patriotic citizens of each community will purchase this space, and so make it possible for the newspapers to carry them."

"Experience gathered from the Third Liberty Loan campaign proved that this form of advertising is of value to anyone whose name is associated with it. For that reason the solicitation of funds for the purpose of underwriting these advertisements need not be considered anything other than the offering of an opportunity for the making of valuable advertising investment, while the advertising is at the same time of great assistance to the nation."

"The newspaper publisher cannot do a more patriotic service than that of selling the space in which to run these advertisements, while they are at the same time giving liberally of their reading matter space in the campaign for the selling of War Savings Stamps."

Most newspapers who have complied with this request have done more than has been expected of them, for they have not only given reading matter space, but display space as well. Although they may not be entitled to any particular credit for this, it is nevertheless worthy of mention that they have not played the game of "heads I win, tails you lose." As a general thing the war has materially reduced the profits of newspapers, especially those in the small cities and towns, but it is a fact that the country press has furnished an example of patriotic cooperation for metropolitan papers. They have given freely of their chief stock in trade—advertising space—and have been a powerful factor not only in helping the government carry out its war plans, but in winning over discordant elements of the nation's population.

Stevens Point people have been exceptionally generous in their support of Liberty Loan and War Savings campaigns through the newspapers, and splendid results have been accomplished as a direct result of this spirit. Many of the advertisements of this kind that have appeared in The Gazette have come entirely unsolicited, and almost without exception those to whom the plan was explained were not only willing, but anxious, to pay out their money for the good of the cause.

The Gazette, in its own behalf and in behalf of the National War Savings committee, takes this opportunity to convey to all who have underwritten War Savings advertisements its heartiest thanks.

How Far Behind Are You?

One of Pershing's men, returned from France, was speaking. "When I left for home" he said: the boys over there were feeling pretty blue, because they thought that you here in America were not backing them up as you ought to. We had a pretty bitter winter over there. The weather was the coldest France has known in years. Many of us were without proper food or clothing. Some were even without shoes. None of us were complaining, though, but the feeling that when we were doing so much for you, you were not doing everything in your power to back us up sometimes bit in pretty hard.

"We felt like the little Irishman felt in a Y M C A. hut one evening. A bunch of us had gathered there to listen to a speaker from America. During the course of his lecture he said:

"We in America are behind you boys to a man." Then my little Irish friend got up. 'Yes' he said, 'you're all behind us, all right, a h--- of a ways behind - - 4,000 miles.' Are you that far behind 'the boys'? If you are, move up closer, put all your energy into this War Savings Campaign. Save to the utmost of your ability and put your savings into War Savings Stamps and get every one else to do the same. Make 'the boys' in France realize that while the mileage may be great it is easily spanned by your willingness to help.

Everywhere, now, one is made aware of the fact that expressed and unexpressed opposition is gradually evaporating. From all sides come evidences of the fact that the people are drawing together, shoulder to shoulder, ready to help one another, President Wilson, and the army to put an end to the menace of Prussianism.

The increasing number of reports of the men dying for the country is adding to the number of loyal men and women who are ready to live for their country. This will lead day by day to a better realization of the fact that if one is to live for his country he must live right! In short, that it is quite as much the duty of the civilian to keep well by following rigid personal health laws as it is the duty of the soldier to keep in good fighting condition.

The shortage of physicians and nurses, furthermore, makes disease prevention prudent as well as patriotic. Already, one-sixth of the Wisconsin physicians are in uniform, and it is stated by the Surgeon-General that one-third will be required to meet the needs of the present number of soldiers. The shortage of nurses appears to the Federal authorities to be so serious that extraordinary measures are now being taken to train an added number of women for military and civil needs. Inasmuch as the war is so long, it is probable that if this goes on as long as it is feared it will be well to find the shortage of diet attendants grievously.

For most people, keeping well is not such a difficult thing to do. The rules of health are simple and coincide amazingly with the things we are told to do to "help win the war." Restricted eating and coarse foods are good for the average American. The high cost of living has doubtless driven the use of it. There is no credit being given to anybody who is not practicing moderation in his pleasure and habits. Physical work, so necessary to the soldier, is being furnished much needed exercise to many. Tired, overworked bodies are being kept in good health by abundant sleep. For people who are not diseased, these healthful conditions are good.

There are others who struggle for health under severe handicaps, such as decaying teeth, diseased tonsils, etc. These handicaps should be removed. A horse tied to a post, or a yacht with its anchor dragging, cannot be expected to win a race. The individual who would regain health or maintain it needs to cut the bonds which hold him prisoner.

AN EXCITING RUNAWAY

What came near being a serious runaway accident took place on Clark street last Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Kropf of Linwood and her year old baby were thrown onto the pavement. The lady was driving down the east approach to the Wisconsin river bridge when her horse became frightened, and galloped towards the business district. It turned the corner at S. Third street so sharply that Mrs. Kropf and the child were thrown out and two wheels of the light wagon ran over both of them. The baby wasn't injured in the least and the mother escaped with a few slight bruises, including a cut under her chin. The horse ran only a short distance further and stopped. Some slight damage was done to the harness.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube, which tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the internal surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.

INCREASE IN PENSIONS

Veterans of Civil War to Get Extra Allowance Under Law Recently Enacted

● Veterans of the civil war are entitled to a material increase in their pension allowances as a result of new legislation by congress. Details regarding this law are given in the following official announcement:

The act of June 10, 1918, amending the Sherwood pension law of May 11, 1912, provides the rate of $30 per month for soldiers and sailors of any age who served 90 days and less than 6 months during the Civil war and were honorably discharged, and who are now receiving a lower rate. Those who are 72 years of age or over, and who served 6 months, are entitled to receive $32 per month; those who served 1 year $35 per month; 1½ years $38 per month; and 2 years or over $40 per month. These increases will be granted automatically and without application of any kind to the Pension Bureau, to all soldiers and sailors now pensioned under the act of May 11, 1912 and who have attained the required age and served the necessary length of time.

Soldiers and sailors who served during the Civil war and are pensioned at lower rates under some other law, but who are entitled to pension under the act of May 11, 1912, will be required to file an application under that act in order to receive the benefits of the new law.

The Pension Bureau will make these allowances with all the dispatch possible under existing conditions. A special force for the adjustment of cases within the provisions of the new law has been organized, which will handle these cases exclusively. It should be borne in mind by those concerned that there are now nearly 268,000 pensioners under the act of May 11, 1912, and all are urged to exercise patience and consideration. While every effort will be made to hasten this work, there will be no avoidable interference with the progress of claims now on file or hereafter filed under other laws. A special effort will be made not to interfere with the adjudication of widow's claims.

It will be wholly impracticable to make any payments at the increased rate on July 4, 1918; but it is hoped that payments due Aug. 4, 1918, may be made at the rate provided by the new law. It will not be necessary to write the Bureau about these increases. Letters of inquiry will simply delay the work of making allowances.

No attorneys' fees will be allowed or paid for services in securing increase of pension under the act of June 10, 1918.

Lieut. Clyde B. Van Hocke and Miss Priscilla Dodd of Orange, Texas, will be married in the bride's home town next Saturday evening, June 29th. The young army officer is the second son of Jas. A. Van Hocke, a native son of Portage county but for several years manager of a department in the Swift & Co. plant, Chicago. Clyde has visited here quite frequently and has many local friends who wish him every good fortune. Miss Dodd's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Dodd, prominent residents of Orange.

Dr. and Mrs. C. von Neupert announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Frances von Neupert and Harold Baebrenoth, which event will take place at St. Stephen's church on Thursday, Sept. 13.

The marriage of Miss Emma Lien and Peter C. Johnson, both of this city, took place at the parsonage of Trinity Lutheran church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Theo. Ringen officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are now on a week's trip, after which they will return here to reside. Mrs. Johnson, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lien, 119 Brawley street, is a graduate of the local high and normal schools and formerly taught school at Wausau. Mr. Johnson is a salesman in the employ of O. A. Young, local Overland automobile dealer.

Dr. Wayne F. Cowan, a former local practicing physician, now a lieutenant in the medical reserve corps of the army, on active service, and Miss Cornelia Luca of Chicago, for two years preceding June, 1917, a member of the faculty of the Stevens Point Normal, were married at Houston, Texas, last Thursday. Announcement of their marriage is no surprise to their local friends as their engagement was announced a year ago. Lieut. and Mrs. Cowan will reside temporarily at Mercedes, Texas, where Lieut. Cowan is attached to the Fifteenth cavalry. He does not expect to be sent overseas.

Announcement is made by Mrs. E. D. Glennon of the approaching marriage of her daughter, Miss Grace G. Glennon and James A. Cashin. The wedding will take place at St. Stephen's church on Thursday, July 11.

A class of ten candidates were initiated into the newly organized United Colony of Beavers at a meeting held in Society Hall Tuesday evening. The total membership of the colony is now 62. Eben S. Hunt, organizer, was in charge of the initiation. Following the work a dancing party was held, with about fifty couples in attendance. Music was furnished by the C. O. F. orchestra.

HUMORIST HAD LAST LAUGH

How Mark Twain Turned Joke on Vienna Authorities: Will Be New Story to Many.

The letters of Mark Twain record but little concerning the years he spent in the Austrian capital, the Christian Science Monitor observes. The humorist did some special writing for American papers during those "Wanderjahre." Indeed, the Vienna journalists took him to their hearts as a colleague of a particularly genial type and often invited him to a friendly "spread" at which the guests were members of the Austrian fourth estate. The story of how he got into trouble with the authorities, through the indiscretions of a Vienna journalist, has probably never been published.

As the tale goes, a certain reporter, either in a facetious or a vindictive moment, gave out that Mark Twain had been seen suspiciously loitering about the bridge which spans the Danube canal near the Ring strasse, and not far from the Hotel Metropole, at which the Clemenses lived. Mark could not let this reflection upon his character go unchallenged. He hastened to explain—to apologize, in fact, for having given the authorities the slightest anxiety about him.

The explanation was thoroughly Twainlike. He had found by the bridge the longest German word he had ever seen and, in order to comprehend it in all its longitude and latitude, he had pinned one end of it to the bridge with the idea of unfolding it! Bearing his precious burden with him, he came to the opposite end of the bridge, only, alas, to find that he still had yards to spare! The apology was accepted with many a broad grin.

EXPLAINING GODS OF EGYPT

Prof. Flinders Petrie Has Thrown Much Light on Sources of Mythology of Ancient Land.

The question of the character and origin of the local gods of Egypt is still obscure; but a paper by Prof. Flinders Petrie, published in "Ancient Egypt," part 3, 1917, does much to clear it up. Professor Petrie collected the original records of these cults, and by marking the headquarters of each deity he arrived at important results. It appears in only one southern city, and his cult seems to have come from the northeast. The distribution of Mut, the mother-goddess, is decidedly eastern, while that of Anken is western. Set was certainly brought into Egypt by the desert road, as he had there two centers of the first class, and he was introduced by the Red sea way to the eastern delta.

The distribution of the Osiride triad indicates a settlement so early in the land that the worship was generally diffused. Professor Petrie sums up his article thus: "The geography of the worship of the gods is thus seen to have a considerable value historically, as bearing on their origin and connections. When more complete research into the localities of various uncertain names may extend our identifications, it will be possible to get more light on the sources of Egyptian mythology."—Nature.

Where Civilization Started.

The lacustrine settlements were places of refuge for a pastoral and agricultural people and the light and dryness that characterized the dwellings show a step in advance toward more permanent abodes. In this period science places the beginning of civilization.

By these lacustrine men spinning and weaving were invented. Agriculture was born among them; animals were domesticated—the ox, the cow, the sheep, the goat, the dog. The uses of metal were discovered and the age of iron was ushered in.

Habitations similar to these still exist in the East Indies and among the American tribes of Maracibo. They existed also in Lake Prasias, in Thrace, during the time of Herodotus, the Greek historian.

Chinese Exports of Human Hair.

Since the abolition of the queue after the fall of the Manchu dynasty long pigtails of Chinese hair are no longer readily available. The dealers are relying more and more on the combings of women, although there are men who make it a part of their business to let their hair grow to about eight inches in length and then sell it to the barber, who in turn sells to the dealer. For export the hair is packed according to length and tied in bunches. Most of the exports go to France and the United States, where the hair is bleached with hydrogen chloride and then boiled in dye. It is thus rendered finer in texture and, incidentally, absolutely sanitary. The appearance of the hair is also completely changed.

Little Danger of Salt Famine.

So universally needed, salt deposits are found in many parts of the world. The quantity of salt in the ocean is said to be equal to at least five times the mass of the Alps. Near Cracow, Poland, is a bed 100 miles long, 20 miles wide and a quarter of a mile thick. This mine is the greatest of its kind in the world and houses a complete city under the earth's crust engaged in operating the salt deposits. Houses, streets, electric lights and all the accessories of above-ground villages are here found. Mine miles have been born in the Cracow works, to live a long life of usefulness without once ever coming to the surface.

NEW PAPER MILL HERE

That Is the Definite Plan of the Consolidated Company, Owners of Local Waterpower

That the development of the Jackson Milling Co. waterpower in this city would result in the establishment of a new industry in Stevens Point has been confidently expected ever since work on the new dam was started last year. It is now possible to state definitely that such will be the case.

The waterpower project has been formally taken over by the Consolidated Water Power & Paper Co., whose headquarters is at Grand Rapids, and plans for utilizing the power have been completed. A paper mill for the manufacture of tissue paper for use in wrapping butter, bread and other products, will be erected on the east bank of the river. The mill will not be a large one, but will be a substantial addition to the city's industrial field. It will be built of local brick, 14x150 feet in size, partly two stories in height. Work on the structure will be started next month and it will be in operation by fall or early winter, it is hoped. Machinery for the mill has already been ordered.

The agreement entered into by the owners of the waterpower, under which surplus power will be taken by the Wisconsin Valley Electric Co., will be put into effect. The construction of a power line to Grand Rapids for the transmission of power there and to the company's mill at Biron, will not be carried out, at least not for some time to come. It is probable that eventually a line will be built, merely to enable the company to maintain even power at each mill through the interchange of current. The fact that the company will have more power here than it will need for the paper mill, will undoubtedly result in other industries being established here by them after the war.

The plant of the Jackson Milling Co. will be greatly improved and generally overhauled this summer, in order to make arrangements for doing away with the present water power at the mill. The water wheels will be discarded and motors installed and connected up with the power house to be built at the new dam. A new feed mill will also be put in and various other repairs and improvements made. Work will be started early next month and will be completed by early fall.

AUSTRIANS ARE ROUTED

Troops of Dual Monarchy Crushing Defeated By Italians—Other War News

The Austrian offensive against the Italians, which was expected by the central powers to achieve a decisive victory over the allies, has not only failed of its purpose, but has resulted in a crushing defeat for the armies of the dual monarchy.

A dispatch from Italian headquarters Tuesday said: "The Austrian retreat continues. The importance and scope of the Italian success grows hourly. It is now reported that the troops of Archduke Joseph and General Wurm must surrender or be annihilated. The Piave river is choked with enemy dead and the debris of their equipment."

The losses of the Austrians in prisoners, killed and wounded is estimated at 200,000. The number of prisoners taken by the Italians is officially announced as 45,000. This includes some 12,000 to 15,000 captured during the week before the Austrian offensive was turned into a rout.

Dr. Richard von Kuehlmann, German foreign secretary, declared to the Reichstag in Berlin Monday that Germany could not bind herself to any pledge in regard to Belgium. Chief blame for instigating the war was laid at Russia's door by Dr. von Kuehlmann. France and England were named as the next powers in order of culpability.

A dispatch from Washington Tuesday said: "Germany is preparing her people for failure to win the war this year by an extensive propaganda setting forth that in the event German armies are not able to overrun France this year, the situation next year will be still better for Germany than it was at the beginning of the present offensive and that a movement will be made then to put France entirely out of the war."

The political and economic agitation in the dual monarchy has spread into Hungary and Germany, according to a report from London. A dispatch from the Hague declared that 20,000 munition workers went on strike in Mulheim last Thursday "on account of reduction of bread ration." A general strike has been called in Budapest, according to a Geneva dispatch, and the railway, postal and telegraph services throughout Hungary are crippled.

The Austrian newspapers are unanimous that the political situation is extremely grave, a Zurich dispatch said. There are rumors in political circles that Count Czernin, former Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, will be returned to office.

JULY DRAFT CALLS HIT WISCONSIN HARD

Nearly 20,000 Class One Men to be Sent to Camp From State During the Month

During the month of July Wisconsin must furnish 19,953 men to the National Army, in accordance with calls issued last week by Provost Marshal General Crowder. Portage county, it is estimated, will be required to furnish nearly 200 of this number. The calls follow:

July 5—3,000 to Columbus Barracks, Ohio.
July 15—3,000 to Columbus Barracks, Ohio.
July 22—5,200 to Camp Taylor, Kentucky.
July 22—8,000 to Camp Grant, Ill.
Total—19,200.

In addition to this large number, special calls for men to be given mechanical training have been sent to Wisconsin, 753 in all. Of these men, Portage county will furnish 11. Some of the number will report to the commanding officer at the school at 2,655 Line street, Chicago, on July 15, for training as drillers, truck drivers and repair men while others will be sent to Lewis Institute, Chicago, the same time for general mechanical training. Eleven others will go to Valparaiso University, Valparaiso, Ind., July 15.

Major E. A. Fitzpatrick, state draft administrator, is reported as saying that at the beginning of July there will be approximately 33,000 class one men in Wisconsin on the old list made up of registrants of June 5, 1917. This class does not include the men recently registered who have just reached 21. Those will not be included in the July order.

All class one men will be taken before the higher classes are invaded. When class one men in one community are exhausted, another community must make up the deficit. In several Wisconsin counties the class one men are already exhausted.

Agricultural counties are the first to be exhausted, and it is probable that the call will fall much harder on the cities than the rural districts. "I think the July and August calls will exhaust all of the class one men in Wisconsin who registered on June 5, 1917," said Major Fitzpatrick.

Draft executives of all states were directed Saturday by the provost marshal general to begin on June 25 and to continue for three days thereafter the mailing of questionnaires to registrants of the class of 1918. Twenty-five per cent of the registrants of each board will be provided with questionnaires each day. Boards were instructed to leave serial and order number spaces blank until classification takes place, probably some time in July.

It is announced that the drawing of numbers to determine the order of new registrants will take place in the room of the senate military affairs committee the last of this month, between June 25 and July 1.

DRASTIC SUGAR RULING

Restrictions On Its Use Are Amplified by Federal Food Administration

Drastic restrictions on sugar consumption are announced by the federal food administration. They include: Reduction of home consumption to three pounds a person a month; reduction of less essential manufactured products, including sweet drinks, to 50 per cent of their normal sugar requirements; cutting of ice cream manufacturers to 75 per cent of their normal sugar allowance.

Food administration officials are working on details of a ration card by which they will enforce the three pounds a month rule.

The rationing scheme follows a serious reduction in the available sugar supply of the United States and the allies. Shipping shortage destruction of over 200 French sugar factories, losses of thousands of acres of French and Italian beet sugar lands, have combined to create a serious scarcity. The strain of America to provide sugar for the allies is increasing. Only strict conservation will enable food officials to tide over the crisis without being forced to more drastic steps and increased prices.

The new ration regulations are effective July 1. Every manufacturer will be required to certify his sugar needs to the food administration before he can obtain sugar.

TO CLERKS' MEETING

A. E. Burn will leave Wednesday night for Milwaukee to attend the 15th annual meeting of the Wisconsin County Clerks' association, in session Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Mr. Burn is president of the association and will respond to the address of welcome to be delivered by Mayor D. W. Hoan of Milwaukee. Owing to the pressure of draft work, it is probable that the attendance of clerks at the meeting will be less than in previous years.

ARE POLES PATRIOTIC?

American casualty lists, according to the Polish Union, show that although Poles in this country comprise only 4 per cent of the population, they have contributed 10 per cent of the deaths in action among the expeditionary forces. The first soldiers to be killed in action from Chicago, Milwaukee, Passaic, N. J., and Webster, Mass., were Poles. The national Polish organization plans to make a special demonstration in honor of the Bayonne, N. J., company of the Polish army, whose banner was decorated with the cross of war by President Poincaré of France.

NAVAL RECRUITS WANTED

Enlistments May be Made at the Local Postoffice Next Friday, June 28th

A navy recruiting party will be in Stevens Point on Friday, June 28th, for the purpose of examining and enlisting men for service. The navy at the present time is in the midst of its greatest recruiting drive and is bending every effort to secure as many men for the service as possible.

Men enlisting in the navy are subject to active duty only for the duration of the war. Men can enlist as second class seamen, paying $35.00 per month, and can learn a trade, such as machinist, electrician, gas engine man, etc. In all cases the navy department furnishes free of charge all clothing, board, and medical attention.

All registered men can enlist providing they get a written release from their local board. If married, they must have their wife's written consent. All men must have some kind of support to show their exact age. In applying to the postmaster, Alex. Kozlowski, these men can have their certificates filled out and witnessed. The recruiting party will be at the postoffice all day Friday and will examine all who may wish to enlist. Those who cannot come up to the postoffice during the day time, because they are working, can see the recruiting officer in the evening.

The navy is offering to our young men a great opportunity for learning a trade and at the same time serve their country.

Don't forget the date, Friday, June 28th, at the postoffice.

WAR HITS FIRM HARD

That the war has hit the G. A. Gullikson Co. of this city hard, is evidenced by the fact that no less than five employees of the company have recently joined the navy. Maurice Gullikson, son of G. A. Gullikson, went to the Great Lakes training station a couple of weeks ago. On Tuesday morning Arlie Gullikson, another son, left for Milwaukee to take a final examination for the service, accompanied by Arthur Ross, H. D. Lain and Peter Somers, all fellow employees. Paul Miskowski, another Stevens Point boy, was also in the party.

YOUNG LOCAL SAILOR TELLS OF DISASTER

Harold Bergholte, Who Was on Ill-fated President Lincoln, Home on Furlough

Harold Bergholte of the ill-fated transport President Lincoln, which was recently sent to Davy Jones' locker, arrived in the city Sunday noon on a furlough which ends on July 10th. When interviewed young Bergholte told the story of the torpedoing and sinking of the boat, which prior to the declaration of war was a steamer of 18,000 tons of the Hamburg-American line plying on the Atlantic ocean.

The boat was one of several transports for the transportation of American troops to France and was returning to the United States when attacked. The ship had been four days on its return voyage and approximately 500 miles out from the French port. Without warning three torpedoes hit the President Lincoln at 8:55 o'clock in the morning of May 31. Most of the crew and officers were on the first and second decks, which are immediately below the main deck, at the time of the blow. After the crash all of the men assembled on deck. At first it was not apparent that the boat would be lost. Finally after several minutes, the ship listed and war was given to man the life boats and rafts. After leaving, the transport lasted but a few minutes, sinking 18 minutes after being hit.

The rounding up of all of the life boats and picking up survivors in the water took up the attention of the men directing the boats. The submarine circled around the scene until it snied Lieut. M. V. Isaacs, who was in the same boat as young Bergholte.

The life boat containing Isaacs was singled out and made to tie up alongside of the U-boat, which was declared by Bergholte to be one of the newer types built by Germany. The captain of the ship then spoke in English, his words being to the effect "How do you do" and "How are you." There was no reply from the American men. The U-boat commander ordered Lieut. Isaacs to come on the sub and to point out the captain of the ship. After a survey of the horizon, Lieut. Isaacs was unable to locate his superior. He was then ordered to go below. Some of the crew, numbering eight on deck, were, according to Bergholte, quite young. Their faces were bluish in color, supposedly because of long periods spent beneath the surface of the water.

The life boat was tied to the submarine until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when it was ordered to cast off and the U-boat sailed from the view of the little band in the bouncing life boat.

After 18 continuous hours on the sea those in the life boat were picked up by two American destroyers, which had been sent to the scene shortly after receiving a distress signal, and were found just 82 miles away from the scene of the catastrophe. The survivors were taken back to a French port, from where they sailed on another transport four days afterwards, landing at an American port.

The crew of the submarine were quite courteous and the fact that several of the crew manned the guns is explained by the young sailor that they were only unloading them. The crew was dressed in waterproof clothing.

One other Stevens Point boy, Harold Todd, was on the President Lincoln and was picked up by the same destroyer that Harold Bergholte was brought to. When leaving the destroyer movies were taken of the band, which in all likelihood will be shown to the public at the local playhouses some time in the near future through "animated weeklies."

The President Lincoln had on board 635 men, including officers, crew and some soldiers. The soldiers were returning to the United States for special instruction in tank warfare. Of this total number but 27 were lost, four being officers.

All of the crew received promotion upon landing in the United States. Harold Todd was promoted to 2nd class engine man, while Bergholte was made coxswain, which position he had filled as acting coxswain at the time of the disaster. These positions are temporary and in order to be permanently placed it will be necessary that the young petty officers pass a successful examination.

Harold Bergholte in his trips across the Atlantic has spent three days in Paris and has visited French ports. Since leaving usually averages from 2000 to 2500 miles a day. He did not expect to meet any Stevens Point boys over there.

GARAGE CHANGES HANDS

Joseph Koehn has sold the Buiger garage on Strong's avenue to Louis Jacobs and Frank Eden and will join the navy as a mechanic in the aviation section. He passed the preliminary physical examination here last week and will have Friday for Milwaukee to take the final test. He expects to take a week's vacation, however, before reporting for training, which will probably be at Key West, Fla. As Mr. Koehn is above the draft age, his enlistment is purely voluntary and inspired by a desire to serve the nation during the present crisis. He came here two years ago and has made numerous friends during his residence in the city. Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Eden, the new owners of the Buiger, are well known and trustworthy young men. The latter was for several years in the employ of the Stevens Point Garage.

Emil Hofsoos, son of Chief of Police and Mrs. John S. Hofsoos, who recently enlisted in the ordnance department of the army, is expecting to sail for overseas duty within a short time. It was on May 5th that he left the city for Chicago for special training in that department.
